2020-09-24 13:14:58 UTC 2020-09-24 13:16:02 UTC		Do you have some printed info. about the incubator project that you could share? That's awesome! Dodge ball fundraiser

2020-09-24 13:16:09 UTC	Becky McCray	Sharon Beever Deb's incubator project was informal. They just made it up! Free or reduced rent, help from the local resources like the chamber and SBDC.
2020-09-24 13:17:13 UTC	Missy White	Julia Stuble parking changes are one way to make MS more appealing. That's why part of MS looks like a parking lot with buildings in the distance, and original section is "walkable"
2020-09-24 13:17:48 UTC	Shannon Hundley	Love Vineland NJ! We have family there!
2020-09-24 13:18:03 UTC	•	I love these ideas, and I'm curious how they handled buildings that really needed a lot of love before someone could use them.
2020-09-24 13:18:27 UTC	Sharon Beever	How long was the free or reduced rent period? One year or longer?
2020-09-24 13:18:39 UTC		3 month
2020-09-24 13:18:40 UTC		Has anyone taken their vacant buildings tour virtual due to the pandemic?
2020-09-24 13:19:02 UTC		And did Chamber (other?) subsidize that reduced rent?
2020-09-24 13:19:27 UTC		(Also thanks @MissyWhite re: pausing/walkability. Charles Whitson, what other zoning changes do you recommend?)
2020-09-24 13:19:27 UTC 2020-09-24 13:19:28 UTC		Thank you Michelle Kirstan Knowlton - looking at Franklin NH and some key players there - and their resources/methods is a good start. avail funding etc. happy to connect/share info
2020-09-24 13:20:31 UTC	Charles Whitson	Yes, the absentee owner who has ridiculously high rents
2020-09-24 13:21:12 UTC	Kirstan Knowlton	Nathan Karol Thank you that would be great. It's not my wheelhouse, but I am curious about learning more so I can be a positive voice in the conversation. Berlin has so many empty store fronts, but many of them are on the verge of being torn down.
2020-09-24 13:22:05 UTC	Becky McCray	What a smart move to deal with the ridiculous rents: I love offering to fill the building, if they'll let you set the rent.
2020-09-24 13:22:47 UTC	Missy White	Deb Brown any suggestions on how to make local regulations more restrictive than State level? That's a challenge for us in WY. Very low interest/ability to have local restrictions more restrictive
2020-09-24 13:23:32 UTC	Becky McCray	Julia Stuble I'm pretty sure that the reduced rent in Deb's incubator was not subsidized. The building owners did get to ask for utilities.
2020 00 24 42-22-42 LITC	Caralina Danas
2020-09-24 13:23:42 UTC 2020-09-24 13:24:02 UTC		What was that town who had the fire inspections twice a year? Is there any long term downside to community owned buildings (like in the incubator model)? Such as the disincentive of not having building equity?
2020 00 24 42-24-00 LITC	Caralina Danas
2020-09-24 13:24:09 UTC		thanks1
2020-09-24 13:24:29 UTC		Sharon Beever I think the free rent was one year?
2020-09-24 13:24:35 UTC	Shawn Marquis	i have thought about placing colored, cheery lighting inside of our many vacant buildings, so that windowfronts are illuminated and not sad. perhaps bringing attention to what's possible for the location rather than just driving by the gloom. has anyone heard of this being done?
2020-09-24 13:24:36 UTC	Lynn Skall	What other businesses benefitted from the incubator project?
2020-09-24 13:24:46 UTC	•	Scenario - I'm a fledgling entrepreneur with a dream to invest in properties to build community - Not much more than a few cents to throw in the ring - Am I best to start a NP to house, then apply for grants, or find private investors? or both?
2020-09-24 13:25:19 UTC	Susan Odum	I really like the fire department inspection idea - given that a fire in a vacant building could take out the whole downtown.
2020-09-24 13:25:24 UTC	Abbe Hamilton	what is the best way/message to engage non responsive landowners?
2020-09-24 13:26:18 UTC		A great reminder to gather the crowd - thanks Deb
2020-09-24 13:26:39 UTC		Julia Stuble we are working on an ordinance with our town around vacant buildings, owners will not have to pay a fine if they agree to participate in a similar program Deb is discussing
2020-09-24 13:26:39 UTC	Lynn Skall	Do you have any success stories about shared work spaces using a previously vacant bldg?
2020-09-24 13:27:42 UTC		Thanks Charles!
2020-09-24 13:27:46 UTC		Nathan Karol I'm also looking and learning from Franklin based on a makerspace they created there but has since closed.

2020-09-24 13:28:02 UTC	·	Here in Cornish, Maine, we have C.A.B. (Cornish Association of Business) and they actually work together to encourage new business. They also promote the area with events like The Apple Festival and the Strawberry Festival, which both draw huge crowds

2020-09-24 13:28:54 UTC	Nathan Karol	@kathleen - yea too bad it did - but the busn model didn't work and the focus seems to be on building out coop space to sell. Talked w the owner of those bldgs. Keep in touch. will send msg.
2020-09-24 13:29:11 UTC	Nathan Karol	sorry - condo not coop
2020-09-24 13:29:37 UTC	Kathleen Menegozzi	Sounds great Nathan Karol . Looking forward to connecting!
2020-09-24 13:29:45 UTC	Julia Stuble	Green River, WY divided an abandoned middle school into small office spacesworks great! And keeps historic building from being torn down.
2020-09-24 13:31:20 UTC	Emily Lavigne-Bernier	Georgia Mills Are you in this session? Are you hoping to come onto the main screen?

2020-09-24 13:31:29 UTC	Sharon Beever	What is so frustrating about attending this conference now is the pandemic - people aren't interested in buying buildings/opening businesses now. But, hopefully we can use these great ideas after the pandemic has passed.
2020-09-24 13:31:57 UTC 2020-09-24 13:32:23 UTC	_	Great repurposing of the space Julia Stuble! Winthrop, ME did something similar. My aunt sells her aprons, quilts, and other fabric art at Freckle Salvage Co. Better than having to find her own space or going solely online.

Becky - I agree! Those flowers help dress it up as well Love this scene! awesome window ideas! I host a holiday pop-up shop between thanksgiving and christmas in downtown Albion. Gives local makers an opportunity to sell in a space during the holiday season

We generally try for at least 3 month increments
2020-09-24 13:35:08 UTC 2020-09-24 13:35:13 UTC	Caroline Hurteau Dannine (da-neen) (she/her) Donaho	The pop-up is in a vacant building We rented a large warehouse type space, then divided it into artist spacescreating a sort of arts incubator
2020-09-24 13:35:24 UTC	Kathleen Menegozzi	We're considering partnering with a national labor organization (RAISE) to convert our store into a food pantry on the days we are currently closed.

The Philbrook Place not Pace ;-) Can you say more about "Alchemy"? Alchemy is an artists' co-op. 16 artists share the space and run a retial store, each paying a share of the rent. In Lander.
2020-09-24 13:38:30 UTC		Cool!

2020-09-24 13:48:30 UTC	Gaea McGahee	going on four years of caring for this space and we have gardens (including a truckbed garden)
2020-09-24 13:49:35 UTC	Kirstan Knowlton	I love all this creative thinking. I know we have such a negative narrative about our downtown in Berlin, but this shift in perspective and what could be possible is great.
2020-09-24 13:49:39 UTC		What great ideas!
2020-09-24 13:50:38 UTC	Beth Christy Draper	We have a selectman who is strongly anti- common space use without insurance. This is an obstacle for how the majority of residents feel. But the insurance issue is prohibitive to farmers (farmers markets) artist and musicians. Any ideas on solutions?
2020-09-24 13:50:46 UTC 2020-09-24 13:51:19 UTC		Dannine Donaho murals we need to get this going sidewalk games painted on sidewalks in Lander, WY. Hopscotch, mirror me, the sidewalk is lava.
2020-09-24 13:52:10 UTC	Nathan Karol	Beth Christy Draper have them team up with a non profit/chamber to be additional insured on their policy, and create a partnership/collaboration only about $50-100 extra on the policy.
2020-09-24 13:52:16 UTC	Shannon Hundley	Beth Christy Draper can you create a sort of "group" that could house the insurance? For example a downtown group could be the host for the insurance. OR we have a local agency that was willing to offer cooperative insurance so it would be low cost for a store like The Hannah Grimes Marketplace.
2020-09-24 13:52:22 UTC 2020-09-24 13:52:45 UTC		Beth Christy Draper I know Deb has thoughts on liability and insurance! Beth Christy Draper vote that person out!! And barring that, see if there's a way to have group of interested users get together and purchase joint insurance, with each group paying a portion of premium
2020-09-24 13:52:50 UTC	Becky McCray	You could do these banners on any chain link fence

2020-09-24 14:03:32 UTC	Sharon Beever	River Duck races - people buy little plastic ducks that have numbers on them. /they are all released in the river with volunteers at the beginning and end of the race. Nets across catch the ducks. The first duck to reach the end wins! People love it. Our Historical Association runs it. A local guy whom everyone loves announces the race as if it were a horse race. They sell duck whistles, etc. It is such fun!
2020-09-24 14:03:33 UTC	•	Such great ideas for events!
2020-09-24 14:04:27 UTC 2020-09-24 14:04:28 UTC		Sharon Beever We do that here too. It's so popular and people love it! Love Duck Derbys! fun for families!
2020-09-24 14:06:14 UTC		The Duck derby sounds awesome! Not to be a Debbie Downer, but I am also deeply concerned for the environment, and worry about plastic. I think a lot about making "stuff" that ends up not being healthy for us and our kids in the long run
2020-09-24 14:06:57 UTC	Bailey Matteson	My chamber back in Ludlow Vermont a did a scavenger hunt with a variety of different business involving neighboring towns (finding a specific piece in the business, one was a small teddy bear on a rafter of of the building.) If you completed it bring back the papers your name was put into a raffle for a box full small items from each business that was in the scavenger hunt.
2020-09-24 14:07:02 UTC	Kathleen Menegozzi	We gave away free lunches for students k-12 while the school was getting their mobile lunch program up and running after the closing of schools.
2020-09-24 14:07:22 UTC		Duucks are re-used each year!
2020-09-24 14:07:24 UTC 2020-09-24 14:08:22 UTC	_	Currently, we're hosting a voter information initiative 3 days per week. We've also hosted a social distanced community easter egg hunt where our team painted 30 paper eggs that we hidden all around town. We gave the winners gift cards.
2020-09-24 14:08:24 UTC	Caroline Hurteau	Just last weekend in Albion (what would have been our large annual fall festival - cancelled due to COVID), our local theater hosted an "Art Hop and Shop" A few local artists featured, a small beer tent and some live music. Our local children's museum also hosted a sidewalk chalk event. The chalk became part of the Arts event. VERY low cost, very safe and SOMETHING to do during these challenging times
2020-09-24 14:09:07 UTC	Missy White	I organized "Taste of the Trails" this summer to get people out to explore our trail system (Nordic, but it was summer so people could walk invited nonskiers to learn about trails). Folks loved it and want to have a winter, ski based one
2020-09-24 14:09:32 UTC	Kathleen Menegozzi	We've also hosted a workers rights event where we invited attorneys and non profits to educate our team and community about their rights in the workplace.
2020-09-24 14:09:42 UTC	Beth Christy Draper	Hi Deb, I think you misunderstood my concern. My perspective is not popular. When we buy and make more "stuff" eventually it ends up in landfills, the microplastics end up in our water, earth, air and bodies.
2020-09-24 14:09:46 UTC	Kathleen Menegozzi	Love this idea Missy White!
2020-09-24 14:09:54 UTC 2020-09-24 14:10:52 UTC		Thank you for the info on the shirts Beth Christy Draper what if you made ducks from scrap wood? Or recycled paper? And get

2020-09-24 14:11:04 UTC	Shannon Hundley	LOVE the Easter Egg hunt! Thinking up our idea for Halloween this year
2020-09-24 14:11:15 UTC	Lori Hunter	Lander, WY has a wild game cook off event where teams compete with wild game. Patrons pay an entry fee and eat all they want.
2020-09-24 14:11:28 UTC	Beth Christy Draper	Becky McCray yes yes! Thank you!
2020-09-24 14:11:57 UTC		My local Library just sold masks & beanie hats, ordered from a local printer (one of the few businesses in town), for a fundraising walkathon in blaze orange because we are deep in hunting season here in northern Maine.
2020-09-24 14:12:11 UTC	Charles Cooper	and there's probably lots of people in town with basement workshops would love to be involved in making those ducks Just get them a pattern so that they're fairly consistent. Right there you've got a bunch of people who are involved in promoting the event for you.
2020-09-24 14:12:13 UTC	Nathan Karol	Shannon Hundley - saw something on social for passing out candy - long pieces of PVC pipe - slide the candy down to the treaters
2020-09-24 14:12:41 UTC	Sharon Beever	We have a "Polar Express" Holiday scavenger hunt for children. Families go round town to participating businesses, the library, a church, etc. and get their ticket punched. At each place the children receive a small gift - an ornament, candy cane, toy, etc. At the end they take their punched tickets to the library to hear a reading of The Polar Express and receive a silver jingle bell.
2020-09-24 14:12:59 UTC 2020-09-24 14:13:06 UTC		great idea! Nathan Karol YES! I loved it!!!! I'm trying to think of a safe trick or treating for downtown possibly?
2020-09-24 14:13:19 UTC	Sharon Beever	The plastic ducks float well and as I said, they are caught and re-used each year!
2020-09-24 14:13:38 UTC		Wooden ducks would be difficult to make so they float and last.
2020-09-24 14:13:39 UTC		ha downtowns are mayhem when it comes to trick or treating - That'll take some brainstorming.
2020-09-24 14:14:29 UTC	Shannon Hundley	Nathan Karol Tagree! In PA for Christmas Santa goes around on a fire truck and throws candy at kids on each street. Thinking of maybe something like that?

2020-09-24 14:15:38 UTC	Charles Cooper	regarding the ducks, you're not looking for artwork. The ducks don't have to look like decoys. you just want them to float (mostly right ways up) and that's not hard to design. In terms of longevity they're probably only going to spend a few minutes or 1/2 hour in the water. You pull them out to dry them off and store them for next year. Should last for decades
2020-09-24 14:15:42 UTC	Nathan Karol	Shannon Hundley - good idea for this year! - maybe there's a way to utilize e-commerce - buy handfuls of candy/bags of candy to be delivered to the house with a portion of the proceeds going to local nonprofits?
2020-09-24 14:16:03 UTC	Sharon Beever	Let's turn Trick or Treating into helping others. Children who bring non-perishable canned good OR fifty cents to a drop off place, receive a candy treat. All proceeds go to the local food pantry.
2020-09-24 14:16:57 UTC 2020-09-24 14:16:58 UTC 2020-09-24 14:17:02 UTC	Nathan Karol Kate Easter (she/her)	Love that Sharon! Sharon Beever - awesome awesome Missy White - we have Women's Trail Nights at our local Nordic Center with all levels of hiking & trail running groups. There are local (high school, middle school, etc) races. There are big, big events (i.e. world cup level) every couple of years. There's a Fat Tire Festival in conjunction with the local (i.e. statewide) brewers in the summer. They do smaller hiking and trail running "races" for those of us non-bikers. We do winter snowshoeing, skiing, and weekly snow-ga (when it's not freezing cold) as well.
2020-09-24 14:17:34 UTC	•	fun ideas, Kate!
2020-09-24 14:18:15 UTC	•	Sharon Beever awesome idea!!!
2020-09-24 14:21:14 UTC	Freddie Mayes	We added picnic tables to a green space in our downtown area to increase outdoor seating during the pandemic and provided a hand sanitizing station for the area. Positive feedback from both patrons and restaurant owners. Will likely make this an annual summertime activity.

They raised over $20,000 with all proceeds going to local businesses. The coffee shop that I manage received enough money from the event to buy ourselves an E-Bike to make local coffee bean deliveries to folks homes and businesses! Emily Lavigne-Bernier You all are killin' it in Keene! Love Prime Roast!!! A happy and safe way to stay connected with our local community and wonderful customers. Thanks, @Nathan Karol! Emily Lavigne-Bernier $20K! That's amazing. We are doing a Virtual 5K in Caribou, ME now and it will be interesting to know how much is raised. Not likely that much. our local bike club did an AMAZING virtual event for a month collected info via Strava, etc. Awards for miles ridden, raffle tickets based on how many miles, elevation gain comp as well as longest single ride

They raised over $20,000 with all proceeds going to local businesses. The coffee shop that I manage received enough money from the event to buy ourselves an E-Bike to make local coffee bean deliveries to folks homes and businesses! Emily Lavigne-Bernier You all are killin' it in Keene! Love Prime Roast!!! A happy and safe way to stay connected with our local community and wonderful customers. Thanks, @Nathan Karol! Emily Lavigne-Bernier $20K! That's amazing. We are doing a Virtual 5K in Caribou, ME now and it will be interesting to know how much is raised. Not likely that much. our local bike club did an AMAZING virtual event for a month collected info via Strava, etc. Awards for miles ridden, raffle tickets based on how many miles, elevation gain comp as well as longest single ride Good luck, Kate! What's the link? Maybe I want to run another virtual 5k. Awesome Emily Lavigne-Bernier!! look for Fremont Area Road Tour for details Kate Easter (she/her) if you send me your email I will send you info on the Keene 5K, I helped organize it! Deb, this session has been so helpful! Thank you very much. Thank you so much Deb! This was GREAT! Amazing presentation, Deb! Thank you SO much!! Thank you Deb and all! Very helpful Deb you are amazing! Elizabeth Wood I don't know how you'd do it remotely, but I'm sure that they'd figure it
